The Name Equality Act of 2007

---

The Name Equality Act of 2007 (Chapter 567, Statutes of 2007 (AB 102)) became effective January 1, 2009, and was amended (Chapter 512, Statutes of 2009 (AB 1143)) effective January 1, 2010.

Family Code, Section 306.5 provides that at the time of application for a marriage license, one or both parties to the marriage may elect to change the middle or last names, or both, by which that party wishes to be known after solemnization of the marriage by entering that information on the marriage license application.

A person may adopt any of the following middle names:

1. The current last name of either spouse
2. The last name of either spouse given at birth
3. A hyphenated combination of the current middle name and the current last name of the person or spouse
4. A hyphenated combination of the current middle name and the last name given at birth of the person or spouse

Parties wishing to adopt a new middle name must do so using the entire name or a hyphenated combination of names as listed above. Segments of a name are not acceptable in the middle name fields.

The law does not allow someone to drop their existing middle name by using the marriage certificate. They must keep their existing middle name or change it. In other words, if there is any middle name in 1B or 12B, there MUST BE an entry in 30B or 31B, either the existing middle name or a new middle name.

The new middle name field should not contain dashes (--) if a party has elected to change their name unless that party does not have a current middle name shown in field 1B or 12B, and they are not adopting a new middle name.

A person may adopt any of the following last names:

1. The current last name of the other spouse
2. The last name of either spouse given at birth
3. A name combining into a single last name all or a *segment of the current last name or the last name of either spouse given at birth
4. A hyphenated combination of last names

*A segment is a contiguous portion of the name; it is an identifiable match of a portion of the current last name or the last name given at birth of either spouse (Fields 1C, 1D, 12C, 12D). The segment may not omit or add new letters and the letters may not be changed around to create an entirely different segment that does not match a portion of the current last name or the last name given at birth of either spouse.

Hyphenated middle and/or last names may or may not include an actual hyphen (-) between the names. This should be decided by the party wishing to hyphenate their name.

When a party to a marriage adopts a new middle and/or last name, all name fields in the area entitled "New Names" for that party must be completed.

When a party does not elect to change their name, each of the new name fields for that party must be completed with two dashes (--).

If a license has been issued incorrectly due to a clerical error, an amendment may be prepared in order to correct the error. The amendment must be signed by one of the parties to the marriage and the County Clerk or his or her deputy, and the reason for the amendment must be listed as "correcting a clerical error."

NOTE: A "clerical error" is when the information shown on the marriage license differs from that shown on the application for a marriage license.

After a marriage certificate is registered by the local registrar, the certificate may not be amended to add the new name or change the name adopted

- ◆ When you sign this application, you are stating under penalty of perjury that you are unmarried, the information you have provided is true and correct and that there is no legal objection to the marriage.

I have read and understand the foregoing information.
